Dear Alison, Kevin, Martin, Kate, Fiona and team

As Chair and Chief Executive of the Royal United Hospitals Bath, it gives us great pleasure to write to you as part of our hospital's charity 'Thanking Week', expressing our sincere gratitude for your wonderful fundraising efforts as a charity partner.

Your support is truly valued. It allows us to create opportunities to strengthen, develop and deliver the highest standards of patient care to our local community.

In common with everyone else we are still facing immense challenges brought on by the pandemic, and it has been an extremely difficult year, for all our staff, our patients and their families. We appreciate that many of your fundraising activities have been put on hold, including The Forever Friends Appeal Annual Partnership event usually held in November. We were looking forward to meeting you at this special event to celebrate your fundraising achievements, and listen to your inspiring stories; it is a very rewarding part of our roles. We are both however, hopeful that we will get to a time when it will be safe again to meet face to face and personally congratulate you for your wonderful fundraising.

Your support really does make a difference to the RUH, helping us to create the best possible environment for our patients, their families and staff; as well as funding medical equipment and new research projects in medical care.

The Trust is immensely humbled by your fundraising commitment, thank you.

Regards

Alison Ryan
