Why Altus?

- Altus has delivered over 1,300 engagements for 250+ Financial Services clients in 11 countries.
- Our consultants are FS experts with significant experience of Strategy, Business and IT Architecture, Data Migration and Programme Delivery.
- We maintain architecture models, templates and change frameworks which have been developed over many years and help to ensure that our services are deployed quickly and that results are repeatable.
- We are at the forefront of Financial Services industry change, working on numerous large-scale transformation projects at any one time. We track FS industry and technology trends closely so that we can advise you on what works well and what doesn't.

Services

Strategy – we help you determine if migration is necessary, and if so the options available to achieve it.

Delivery – we take full responsibility for the migration from beginning to end, using experienced consultants and bringing proven methods and tooling.

Support – we work in partnership with clients or 3rd parties, supplementing teams with experienced resources to deliver the data migration, where this is the preferred approach.

Assurance – we provide an independent umbrella reconciliation service to assure data migrations delivered by 3rd party providers.

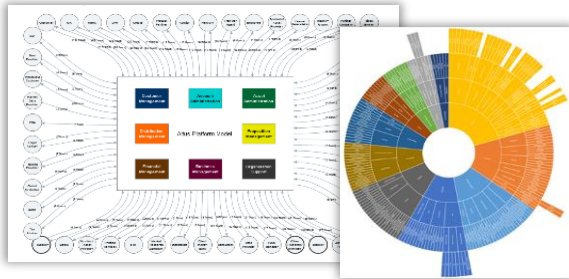

"Their mission statement is succinct and uncomplicated. UCT is all about mitigating risks associated with data migration projects, while delivering on time and within budget—and that is exactly what they did."

PEAK – Understanding Business Data

Altus Consulting has built detailed Financial Services industry reference models over 100s of engagements.

Provided via our unique on-line PEAK tool, these detail over 20,000 data flows, 1,200 business capabilities and 840 common processes. These models are invaluable in understanding what data exists in a business and how it is used. PEAK has been at the heart of our transformation work for over 10 years.

"The Capability and Process Models that the Altus team built in PEAK have helped to improve engagement across the business, in addition to enabling key metrics to be reported on with ease at Exec level."
