

Transformative Consulting for Financial Services

Transforming Financial Services organisations is no easy task, anywhere in the world. Highly regulated products, a complex distribution chain and rapidly changing technology present a challenging landscape. And that's even before we start to consider the impact of AI.

Altus Consulting is dedicated to Financial Services. We provide a full suite of services and tools to support FS transformation, end-to-end.

Our Mission

Our mission is to drive positive transformation in Financial Services, for the benefit of our clients and their customers.

Our Values

People | Passion | Partnership.

Our people are passionate about the industry they work in and about helping to improve it.

We value integrity over commercial gain and build trusted partnerships with our clients, typically over many years.

We are a strongly community focused business, we work with a number of charities and initiatives to promote financial literacy and improve people's lives.

Our Clients

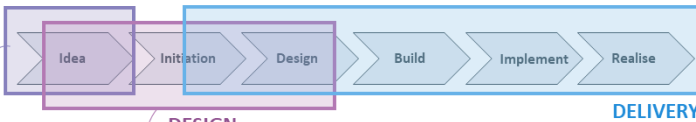

1,300 engagements delivered for 250 Financial Services firms in 11 different countries.

Insurance Transformation Accelerators

Business Design Tool and Insurance Reference Models

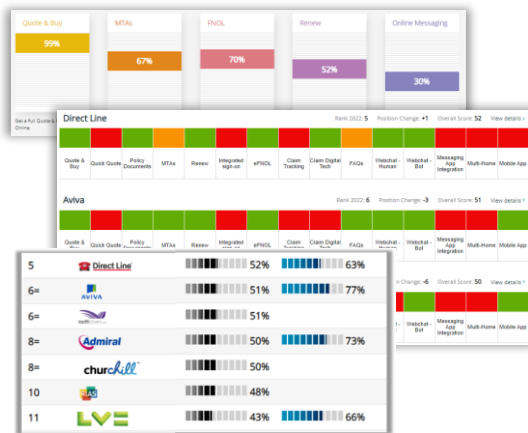

PEAK

Altus Consulting has built detailed insurance industry reference models over 100s of engagements. Provided via our unique on-line PEAK tool, these cover proposition, operations, regulation and technology, and detail over 20,000 data flows, 1,200 business capabilities and 840 common insurance processes. PEAK has been at the heart of our transformation work for over 10 years, providing a robust, visual approach for translating business needs into detailed requirements, and enabling us to design efficient business models and supporting technology.

Digital Insurance Benchmarking Platform

DigitalBar
INSURANCE SECTOR

Competing in the digital space is the difference between success and failure in today's insurance market. Understanding how you stack up against the competition is therefore critical, which is why Altus pulled together 8 years of research data into its Digital Insurance Benchmarking platform: DigitalBar. This industry leading on-line tool enables clients to assess their digital strengths and weaknesses against 250 insurance brands, and provides visibility of over 7,500 customer journeys.

Insurance Transformation Framework and Tool

APEX

Altus Consulting applies the same level of rigour to the delivery of business transformation as it does to its design. Tried and tested in numerous large-scale client programmes, APEX is the only end-to-end change delivery framework specifically designed for Financial Services. APEX encapsulates best-practice methods, templates and reference models for designing, managing and delivering FS change, all contained within our easy-to-use on-line tool.

"Altus Consulting's industry expertise and market knowledge meant they were able to shape the work we needed in very short timescales. We were impressed with the quality and professionalism of the team and the speed with which they understood our needs."
